

Each Police District Now Has Squad Car Ambulance

Police Commissioner Allman said yesterday that each of the thirty-nine police districts in the city is now equipped with an emergency squad car ambulance. The last of the squad cars to be converted into ambulances was put into service yesterday. Crews have been trained in first aid. Including forty-seven patrol wagons the city now has eighty-six vehicles available for carrying accident victims.