

POLICE TO DEDICATE NEW HEADQUARTERS OF ST. JUDE'S LEAGUE

A dedication ceremony for a new headquarters for St. Jude's league, social and charitable organization, 221 W. Madison st., will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow by Chicago policemen and other law enforcement officers, Supervising Capt. Andrew Barry of the third division, president of the police branch of the league, said yesterday.

St. Jude, patron of hopeless and despairing cases, was selected as the patron of policemen because of the dangers involved in their work.

The police branch was founded Feb. 25, 1932, and maintained headquarters at 3208 E. 91st st. until recent acquisition of the four story building on Madison st. During its existence the league has founded St. Jude's seminary at Momence, Ill., and has supported it thru money raised in the club's activities.
