

WILSON RECEIVES POLICE BOOKS FOR ACADEMY

Chicago Daily Tribune (1923-1963); Jun 17, 1960; ProQuest Historical Newspapers Chicago Tribune

pg. 14

WILSON RECEIVES POLICE BOOKS FOR ACADEMY

Eleven cartons of books were delivered Thursday to Police Supt. Orlando W. Wilson in headquarters at 1121 S. State st. Wilson said the books—part of his library in Berkeley, Cal., while he was professor of police administration and dean of criminology at the University of California—would be donated to the library of the future Chicago police academy. The books cover law enforcement, police tactics, and police training.