Updated Message from Interim Superintendent John J. Escalante on Department of Justice Visits

As many of you already know, the Department of Justice is in Chicago this week to visit with various Districts in their overall review of the Department. I wanted to take the opportunity to thank you for your assistance and cooperation during their time with us. Members of the Department have demonstrated the qualities that embody Chicago police officers and the DOJ has reached out to the Command Staff to let us know of the professional treatment they've received, especially in Districts 001, 002, 003, and 012.

It is important to remember that this review is focusing on our procedures as a whole department and in no way targets individual officers. Through your continued cooperation and professionalism, our work with the DOJ will bring about an even greater Department.

Thank you again and stay safe.

John J. Escalante
Interim Superintendent of Police
