FRED RICE, Superintendent of Police

School's Out... School's Out !!!

With the beginning of summer and the closing of schools, Department members must be aware of the increased number of children outside playing and the possible hazards that they may present as we respond to calls as well as on routine patrol.

Children playing in the street, on the parkway, or in the parks are not likely to use care when crossing or running in the street. We must all be aware that when driving, the possibility always exists that we may have to take evasive action to avoid striking a child in the roadway. In particular, extreme caution must be exercised when driving on residential streets especially when responding to "in progress" calls. Scan the street in front of you, and always expect the unexpected.
